Attachment B.1(c)
Deconcentration Policy

Deconcentration of Poverty and Income-Mixing [24 CFR 903.1 and 903.2]

The HAS's admission policy must be designed to provide for deconcentration of poverty and income-mixing by bringing higher income residents into lower income projects and lower income residents into higher income projects. A statement of the HAS's deconcentration policies must be included in its annual plan [24 CFR 903.7(b)].

The HAS's deconcentration policy must comply with its obligation to meet the income targeting requirement [24 CFR 903.2(c)(5)].

Developments subject to the deconcentration requirement are referred to as 'covered developments' and include general occupancy (family) public housing developments. The following developments are not subject to deconcentration and income mixing requirements: developments operated by a HAS with fewer than 100 public housing units; mixed population or developments designated specifically for elderly or disabled families; developments operated by a HAS with only one general occupancy development; developments approved for demolition or for conversion to resident-based public housing; and developments approved for a mixed-finance plan using HOPE VI or public housing funds [24 CFR 903.2(b)].

Steps for Implementation [24 CFR 903.2(c)(1)]

To implement the statutory requirement to deconcentrate poverty and provide for income mixing in covered developments, the HAS must comply with the following steps:

Step 1. The HAS must determine the average income of all families residing in all the HAS's covered developments. The HAS may use the median income, instead of average income, provided that the HAS includes a written explanation in its annual plan justifying the use of median income.

HAS Policy

The HAS will determine the average income of all families in all covered developments on an annual basis.

Step 2. The HAS must determine the average income (or median income, if median income was used in Step 1) of all families residing in each covered development. In determining average income for each development, the HAS has the option of adjusting its income analysis for unit size in accordance with procedures prescribed by HUD.

HAS Policy

The HAS will determine the average income of all families residing in each covered development (not adjusting for unit size) on an annual basis.

Step 3. The HAS must then determine whether each of its covered developments falls above, within, or below the established income range (EIR), which is from 85% to 115% of the average family income determined in Step 1. However, the upper limit must never be less than the income at which a family would be defined as an extremely low-income family (federal poverty level or 30 percent of median income, whichever number is higher).

Step 4. The HAS with covered developments having average incomes outside the EIR must then determine whether or not these developments are consistent with its local goals and annual plan.

Step 5. Where the income profile for a covered development is not explained or justified in the annual plan submission, the HAS must include in its admission policy its specific policy to provide for deconcentration of poverty and income mixing.

Depending on local circumstances the HAS's deconcentration policy may include, but is not limited to the following:

- Providing incentives to encourage families to accept units in developments where their income level is needed, including rent incentives, affirmative marketing plans, or added amenities
- Targeting investment and capital improvements toward developments with an average income below the EIR to encourage families with incomes above the EIR to accept units in those developments
- Establishing a preference for admission of working families in developments below the EIR
- Skipping a family on the waiting list to reach another family in an effort to further the goals of deconcentration
- Providing other strategies permitted by statute and determined by the HAS in consultation with the residents and the community through the annual plan process to be responsive to local needs and HAS strategic objectives

A family has the sole discretion whether to accept an offer of a unit made under the HAS's deconcentration policy. The HAS must not take any adverse action toward any eligible family for choosing not to accept an offer of a unit under the HAS's deconcentration policy [24 CFR 903.2(c)(4)].

If, at annual review, the average incomes at all general occupancy developments are within the EIR, the HAS will be considered to be in compliance with the deconcentration requirement and no further action is required.

HAS Policy

For developments outside the EIR the HAS will take the following actions to provide for deconcentration of poverty and income mixing:

Skipping a family on the waiting list to reach another family in an effort to further the goals of deconcentration.

Order of Selection [24 CFR 960.206(e)]

The HAS system of preferences may select families either according to the date and time of application or by a random selection process.

HAS Policy

Families will be selected from the waiting list based on preference. Among applicants with the same preference, families will be selected on a first-come, first-served basis according to the date and time their complete application is received by the HAS.

When selecting applicants from the waiting list, the HAS will match the characteristics of the available unit (unit size, accessibility features, unit type) to the applicants on the waiting lists. The HAS will offer the unit to the highest ranking applicant who qualifies for that unit size or type, or that requires the accessibility features.

By matching unit and family characteristics, it is possible that families who are lower on the waiting list may receive an offer of housing ahead of families with an earlier date and time of application or higher preference status.

Factors such as deconcentration or income mixing and income targeting will also be considered in accordance with HUD requirements and HAS policy.

15. Violence Against Women Act (VAWA)

In accordance with 24 CFR 903.21, the Housing Authority of Savannah has incorporated the states and provisions of VAWA into its Admissions and Continued Occupancy Policy (ACOP) and Housing Choice Voucher Administrative Plan to protect victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking.

The VAWA section of the ACOP and Administrative Plan outlines HAS policies and procedures regarding victim documentation, termination/eviction of a perpetrator of domestic violence, and confidentiality requirements.

HAS is committed to the safety and welfare of all residents and has an ongoing partnership with SAFE Shelter, as governed through a Memorandum of Understanding. Safe Shelter provides outreach program services, domestic violence training, emergency shelter and comprehensive services including a state of the art facility that provides accommodations for victims of domestic violence.

Conversion of Public Housing.

HAS has made a strategic decision to begin the repositioning of its properties to the HUD Rental Assistance Demonstration (RAD). HAS will evaluate redevelopment and repositioning opportunities for the remaining portfolio of traditional public housing (projects outlined above). During the plan year 2021, HAS may begin conversion of the above projects to Project Based Vouchers (PBV) or Project-Based Rental Assistance (PBRA) under the guidelines of PIH Notice 2019-23, Rev-4 and any successor notices.

Upon conversion to PBV or PBRA, HAS will adopt the resident rights, participation, waiting list and grievance procedures listed in Sections 1.6 C and D (PBV), or 1.7 B and C (PBRA) of PIH Notice 2019-23, Rev-4. Additionally, HAS is currently compliant with all fair housing and civil rights requirements and is not under a voluntary compliance agreement. RAD was designed by HUD to assist in addressing the capital needs of public housing by providing HAS with access to private sources of capital to repair and preserve its affordable housing assets. Please be aware that upon conversion, HAS’s Capital Fund Program budget will be reduced by the pro rata share of public housing developments converted as part of the Demonstration, and that HAS may also borrow funds to address their capital needs. HAS also plans to contribute operating reserves and capital funds. The contribution amount will be determined based on funding availability.

Other Capital Grant Programs.

HAS may submit an application for the Emergency Safety and Security Grant during FY 2021. The application will be in partnership with the Savannah Police Department.
